

Revision Techniques, Learning Styles and Study Skills

What does it all mean?

- We all learn differently... do you know how you learn best?
- How you learn impacts on the ways you should be revising.

The Visual Learner...

“ I see....”

- Use colour when making notes or diagrams
- Create pictures
- Watch demonstrations (programmes, BBC bitesize, you tube, iplayer)
- Display information in your room
- Use books which have lots of pictures/ diagrams.

The Auditory Learner...

“I hear...”

- Talk through what you have been learning
- Talk out loud - repeat what you have been learning
- Learn information to a rhythm or make up a silly song
- Ask someone to give you a verbal test
- Work in quiet surroundings or with very quiet classical music in the background

The Kinaesthetic Learner

“I do...”

- Be active while you are memorising a list.
- Make gestures to help remember a sequence or concept
- Make notes summarising a topic
- Produce mind maps, diagrams and lists
- Make simple models
- Role play an incident with a friend or relative.

What do we mean by 'study skills'?

- Skills which may tackle the process of organising and taking in new information, retaining information, or dealing with assessments.
- The tools that help us to be successful in studying!

Revision Techniques

Organise your ideas:

- Mind maps
- Lists
- Index cards
- Diagrams
- Topics
- Note taking - mind maps/ bullet points/ stories

How to remember:

- Try different ideas
- Mnemonics - tools that help us to remember: rhymes, phrases, acronyms
- Actively noticing
- Using pictures, colours, movement, emotions
- Linking a new idea to something you already know in an unusual way
- Prompt words
